

Adobe & Student Privacy

Learn how Adobe complies with laws, regulations and best practices related to the privacy of student data.

Last updated: November 2, 2019

Adobe products, apps, and services help students communicate their ideas in more creative and engaging ways — so they can make the world take notice. As schools and universities around the globe are confronted with an ever-expanding array of privacy laws, however, it can be challenging for schools to determine whether Adobe solutions comply with local student privacy requirements.
