

WEBFLOW'S DATA PROCESSING ADDENDUM

This Data Processing Addendum ("DPA") is hereby entered into between Webflow, Inc. and its Affiliates ("Webflow") and Customer (jointly the "Parties"), and forms part of the Agreement between the Parties, and reflects the Parties' agreement with regard to the Processing of Personal Information in accordance with the requirements of Data Protection Laws. If Webflow is unable to provide an alternative, Customer may terminate the Service and shall pay Webflow any fees or expenses not yet paid for all services provided pursuant to any Agreement. If Customer fails to sign up for these email notifications, Customer shall be deemed to have waived its right to object to the newly added Subprocessor(s).

Customer's inspection rights under this DPA do not extend to Webflow's employee payroll, personnel records or any portions of its sites, books, documents, records, or other information that do not relate to the Service or to the extent they pertain to third parties.
- 6.2. Process. Subject to thirty (30) days' prior written notice from Customer and at Customer's additional expense (including all reasonable costs and fees for any and all time Webflow expends on such audit, in addition to the rates for services performed by Webflow), Webflow and Customer shall mutually agree to appoint a third-party auditor to verify that Webflow is in compliance with the obligations under this DPA. In no event shall the Parties agree to a third-party auditor that is a competitor to Webflow. Audits and inspections will be carried out at mutually agreed times during regular business hours. Customer shall be entitled to exercise this audit right no more than once every twelve (12) months. Customer shall not be entitled to an on-site audit of Webflow's premises unless legally required by a Regulator.

To the extent Customer's use of the Service requires an onward transfer mechanism to lawfully transfer Personal Information from the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom, or Switzerland to a country or territory which has not been formally recognized by the European Commission as affording the Personal Information an adequate level of protection, Customer hereby acknowledges, agrees, and instructs Webflow to transfer Customer Personal Information as set forth in Schedule 3 (Cross Border Transfers) of this DPA.

10. Limitation of Liability

This DPA shall be subject to the limitations of liability agreed between Customer and Webflow in the Agreement and such limitation shall apply in aggregate for all claims under the Agreement and DPA.

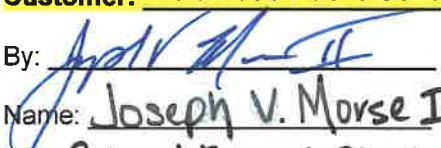

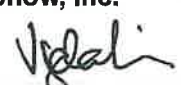

11. Severability

Any provision of this DPA that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction. The Parties will attempt in good faith to agree upon a valid and enforceable provision that is a reasonable substitute and shall incorporate such substitute provision into this Agreement.

12. Updates

Webflow may update the terms of the DPA from time to time; provided, however, Webflow will provide Customer reasonable written notice to Customer when Webflow makes a material update to the DPA.
