Abby:

Hello,

I'm afraid we're not able to sign or agree to school data privacy requirements. We take the data privacy of our learners very seriously, and each Duolingo learner (or their parent/guardian) is entirely in charge of their account and their data. This means we're not able to give educational authorities rights over that data. For more information on our privacy policy please visit: <https://www.duolingo.com/privacy>

This might be something we build into the product in the distant future, but it's not something we can do right now.

Thanks,

Abby | Duolingo Plus Support
